Acknowledgement of Country

The University of Queensland (UQ) acknowledges the Traditional Owners and their custodianship of the lands on which we meet.

We pay our respects to their Ancestors and their descendants, who continue cultural and spiritual connections to Country.

We recognise their valuable contributions to Australian and global society.

The Brisbane River pattern from A Guidance Through Time
by Casey Coolwell and Kyra Mancktelow.

Commitment to Diversity and Inclusion

Diverse perspectives, abilities, experiences and backgrounds inspire creativity, encourage innovation and enrich our communities.

Members of our broad community are valued and respected for their individuality. UQ strives to create a culturally safe, welcoming and inclusive workplace, with strong community connections and partnerships.

Acknowledgement of lived experience

We acknowledge the lived experience of all individuals here today.

We recognise the diverse backgrounds, stories, journeys that each person brings to our culture and community.

Experiences whether they are of joy, struggle, resilience or growth, are valued and respected.

We honour the wisdom that comes from these experiences and the unique perspectives they provide.

The screenshot shows a navigation map for the St. Lucia campus of the University of Queensland. A green walking route is plotted from 'UQ Lakes Busway' (top left) to 'Guzman y Gomez' (top right). The route passes through several buildings: '72 (Cumbrae-Ewart Building)', 'Engineering Building', '23 (Abel Smith Lecture Theatre)', '26B (Human Movement Studies Building)', '21B (Main Refectory)', and '53C (Playi 2 & 3 - The...)' (bottom right). The map also shows 'Blair Dr' and 'Campbell Rd'. At the bottom, it says 'arris'). In the bottom left corner, there's a summary: '787m Walk', '17 minutes, 47 seconds', with 'START', 'DETAILS', and 'SHARE' buttons. The top of the screen has a banner: 'Switch to the Accessible Interface'.

Tips for finding resources

- Enter search terms as individual words, not sentences.
- Be specific!
- If you get no results, search with broader terms
- Use quotation marks to find an “exact phrase”
- Adding more search terms will return less results
- Use filters after searching to limit your results
- Visit our How to find quality information guide for more tips!

Finding books on the shelves

At UQ, we use the Library of Congress (LC) system to organise our books.

When you look up a book in Library Search, it will give you a call number. This is a combination of letters and numbers that matches a sticker on the spine of the book.

Books are arranged by call number alphabetically, then by number.

Referencing guides

- Academic Integrity is taken very seriously by the University
- You will need to reference the sources you draw on in your assignment following a particular style
- Check which referencing style is prescribed for your course on Learn.UQ (Blackboard) or your assignment task sheet
- Then find the referencing guide on the Library's website

Referencing style guides

How to reference using different styles

A referencing style is a set of rules on how to acknowledge the thoughts, ideas and works of others in a particular way. Referencing is a crucial part of successful academic writing, avoiding plagiarism and maintaining academic integrity in your assignments and research. Watch an Introduction to referencing (YouTube, 3m43s).

Which referencing style should I use?

- Check your course profile or ask your lecturer what style you should use
- Some schools or disciplines use a standard style but it is still possible your lecturer may require a different style
- There is no standard style used across UQ
- Researchers submitting a paper for publication in a journal should check the journal's Instructions for Authors, which will normally be available on the journal's website

Referencing styles used at UQ include:

Guides and information	Full name	About the style
ACS	American Chemical Society	Widely used in chemistry and related disciplines.
AGLC (4th edition)	Australian Guide to Legal Citation	The standard Australian guide for referencing in law.
APA (7th edition)	American Psychological Association	The standard style used in psychology, but it is also widely used in other disciplines, especially in the social sciences.
Chicago (17th edition) notes and bibliography Chicago (17th edition) Author-Date	Chicago Manual of Style	The Chicago Manual's footnote referencing system is widely used in the arts and humanities.

Acknowledging and referencing specific formats

Suggestions for citing these formats, if there is not an existing rule in your referencing style:

- Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander referencing
- AI tools for assignments
- Machine Translation for assignments
- Code in your assignments
- Datasets
- Manuscripts from the Fryer Library.

Referencing software

- Check our EndNote referencing software guide. Endnote is available for free to UQ students and staff to help automate your referencing.
- EndNote has output styles for a variety of referencing styles used at UQ.

Other guides for your assignments and research

Librarian help

Do you need help doing research, finding papers or understanding referencing?

You can contact a Librarian: librarians@library.uq.edu.au

A Librarian may deliver research training in some of your courses, but you can always ask them for help outside of those times.

Peer Support

Do you need help finding your way around the library?
Your Library Peer Assistants are here for you!

They're fellow students who know exactly what it's like to navigate university life. Whether you're:

- hunting for that elusive textbook,
 - looking for the perfect study spot, or
 - just trying to figure out how borrowing works,
- they've got your back.

You'll find us around the Law library ready to help or connect you with the right services.

Think of them as your friendly library guides – they've been in your shoes and are here to make your library experience easier.

Look for the Library Peer Assistant shirt and don't hesitate to say hi!
